

Spiritual and educational work

Spiritual and educational activities are carried out in accordance with the official plan of the Department of Anatomy, Clinical Anatomy and Histology. Each holiday is celebrated in a lively and engaging manner, fostering students' sense of responsibility and love for their homeland.

Most of the activities are conducted with academic mentors in student groups, primarily involving 1st- and 2nd-year students of the faculties of Pediatrics, General Medicine, Preventive Medicine, and Dentistry.

The department's staff actively participates in all events organized both within the department and at the national and public level, together with their students.

They participated in the ethnographic and tourist center «Qaraqalpaq awılı» during the celebration of «Júweri gúrtik kúni».

Round table discussions with students are regularly held on various topics related to spiritual and educational matters, including the “Five Important Initiatives” proposed by the President of Uzbekistan, Shavkat Mirziyoyev.

1. The first initiative is to expand young people’s interest in music, art, literature, theater, and other areas of culture.

2. The second initiative is to create conditions for the physical development of young people and to increase their engagement in sports.

3. The third initiative is to ensure equal access to computer technologies and the Internet for the population, especially for young people.

4. The fourth initiative is to raise the cultural awareness of young people and create conditions for the development of book exchange among them.

5. The fifth initiative is to address the issues of employment opportunities for young women.

Particular attention is paid to students' appearance and dress code at the department, in accordance with an internal directive, without infringing on their national or spiritual identity. Special focus is also given to students' lifestyle, health and well-being, spiritual and moral upbringing, and behavior. Faculty members familiarize themselves with students' living conditions and everyday life.

We are always ready to work with young people with great enthusiasm under the motto: "Youth — the present and the future of the country."
